

Fresh: Work that's happening now, challenging how we define the field of metalsmithing and jewelry.

Clean: Looking at how our studio practices impact the environment, and human health.

This exhibition will highlight various ways students are making ethical choices in their studio and creative lives. We encourage students to explore what wise studio practice means to you, and share it through the lens of this exhibition.

The work will be juried by the four members of the Ethical Metalsmiths Student Committee, Kelley Morrison, Lucy Derickson, Jane Barton and Brian Fleetwood. Work accepted will be highlighted in an online exhibition on the Ethical Metalsmiths website. Exhibitions will be archived on the site for future access, and a catalog will be created for the exhibition and will be available for purchase online.

Students who apply to the show are eligible for the Annual Emerging Artist Award. This award will be given to a student who embraces the greater mission of the Ethical Metalsmith organization through their work. This student will receive numerous accolades including a printed catalog of the Annual Student Exhibition, complimentary membership while you are a student, one year of professional membership upon graduation, an expose on the Ethical Metalsmiths website, and the opportunity for your work to be represented by Ethical Metalsmiths.
